Emily

Kids' Chance of Wisconsin Scholarship Recipient

“One week after moving back to my family, I was shopping at the Sheboygan Mall with my cousin. We looked at clothes, shoes, nail polish, and everything else a 12 year-old girl would love. As we looked through the jewelry section of Claire’s, I lost it. I came across a necklace that said, ‘Daddy’s Little Princess.’ That’s when it hit me. Everything in the past year slammed into me like I hit a wall. I wasn’t Daddy’s Little Princess anymore, I was just the girl who lost her dad.

Now that I’m 18 and graduated high school in only three years, it was time to look towards my next steps. I hold my education very close to my heart, and I knew the day I toured, that Ripon College was my next chapter in life. However, with only one source of income for the past five years, a private liberal college didn’t seem like an option.

Kids Chance of Wisconsin gave me the opportunity to better myself and my education affordably. Thanks to them, I can continue on a path of success and make my dad proud.”
